

2003 Riviera 370

Price: ~~$275,000~~ $249,000

Back in the day the Riviera M370 Sports Cruiser was a lot of boat for the money, and it's even better value today. Riviera is known as something of a flybridge specialist, however, in the late 1990s, big sports cruisers were a growing part of the market, and in 2001 Riviera started building its own version, the Riviera M370 Sports Cruiser. This boat was built to a specific brief; take two couples to distant anchorages at a fast, safe cruising speed so the boat could anchor up for an entire weekend, and then shuttle at high speed back to the marina. That box is certainly ticked here with this vessel.
